

Best I've Ever Seen

Off and running, up and coming
Morning in the East;
Spent the night wound so tight
With no chance of release.
In the sky I see the light
Of that morning star;
Somewhere you can see it too,
And I'm wishing I was where you are.
Though I can't bridge the years and the miles laid in between,
I have learned with every step that you are still the best I've ever seen.

Two young lovers undercover
On a dirt road Friday night,
Touched and dreamed—the windows steamed
And the radio just cried.
Hearts a-racing, kisses tasting
Warm and wild and sweet,
And the dashboard light lit up your smile
When I said, "You're all I need."
I don't know why things couldn't work the way we dreamed,
But moments not forgotten yet remind me you're the best I've ever seen.
Oh, you're the best I've ever seen.

Take a listen to the band and I remember when we danced;
I'm thinking things I might've said and wishing that I had just one more chance.
Won't you give me one more chance.

Too obsessed I came out west
And I found a place to hide.
You took a lover, then another,
Never satisfied.
And the people say it's such a shame
To see your appetite
And to see me chase the sun and end up running into lonely nights.
I look at that star again and I see you as a queen—
Standing in your blue dress, girl, you'll always be the best I've ever seen.
Oh, you're the best I've ever seen.
