

Same Dream Over and Over

Listen to my trembling voice.
I wish you were here to see the look on my face.
I was hoping you would call.
I've been missing you, that's all I seem to do these days.
So while I've got you on the line,
I need to say something that's been on my mind.

I have the same dream over and over.
The music plays, and we dance on the wind.
The passing days bring us closer and closer
To the same dream coming true
Over and over again.

I don't know why we let go,
Too much too soon and too young I guess.
I'm not afraid of love now.
I've had my look around and found that you are still the best.
Tell me if you feel it too.
Can we find our way home after all we've been through.

I have the same dream over and over.
The music plays, and we dance on the wind.
The passing days bring us closer and closer
To the same dream coming true
Over and over again.

Words & Music: Michael Cody
Publishing: Window on the West