

Section 6.5. Frames and Machines

Definition. A structure of interconnected members that is not a truss (which consists of two force members only) is a frame if it is designed to remain stationary. It is a machine if it is designed to move.

Example. Page 310 Number 6.70.

Revised: 9/26/2018